Jungle Party

It was Manny Monkey's birthday and he wanted to have a party with all of his jungle friends. He asked Tim Tiger to come, but he was busy. He asked Sara Snake to come, but she was not feeling well. He asked Freddy Frog to come, but he was searching for flies. He asked Sid Sloth to come, but he was taking a nap.

Manny was feeling down in the dumps. It was his birthday, but no one could come celebrate with him. He walked around the jungle and found some ripe bananas to eat. Then he went for a little swim in the river. After awhile, he decided to go home and go to bed early. "What a birthday," he thought.

When he got close to home he saw some balloons tied to his tree. "That's strange," he thought, "Who put those balloons there?" Then all of a sudden, his friends jumped out from behind the tree and yelled, "SURPRISE!" They had been planning a party the whole time. They had games, presents, and even a big banana cake. "Thank you all," said Manny, "I have the best friends ever!"

The Perfect Gift

Mother's Day was coming up, and Cade wanted to buy the perfect gift for his mom. He opened his piggy bank and saw a quarter, two dimes, and three pennies. He frowned and put the piggy bank back.

"Maybe I can make something for her instead," he thought. He found some paper and wrote her a poem:

Roses are red
Violets are blue
Of every mom in the world
I'm glad I got you

Cade put the poem in an envelope and wrote "To: Mom" on the front. On Mother's Day morning, he went outside and found some pretty flowers that he picked and put in a vase. When his mom woke up, he gave her the flowers and the poem.

When Cade's mom read the poem, she hugged him and smiled. "Thank you," she said, "This is the perfect gift!"

Cinco de Mayo

Cinco de Mayo is a holiday that many people in Mexico and the United States celebrate on May 5th. In Spanish, Cinco de Mayo actually means, "the 5th of May."

Cinco de Mayo celebrates when the Mexican army won a battle against the French in 1862 in the city of Puebla.

To celebrate, there are parades and parties. Some people decorate with streamers and balloons. You may see a lot of red, white, and green, because they are the colors of the Mexican flag. Some people dress up in traditional Mexican clothes, play music, and eat lots of yummy food like tacos, nachos, and enchiladas.
